GALLURA'S SENSUAL LIFESTYLE

In Gallura hospitality is almost a vocation, it is the spirit of the region.

Perhaps because the Costa Smeralda sea is too beautiful not to share; perhaps it is the countryside, infused with nature's fragrance and wild beauty; perhaps it is simply the soul of the people, always ready to welcome company. A hundred years ago Gallurans invited guests to their rustic stazzo, country house, or on board a lateen sailboat; today we offer our family-owned hotel, Villa del Golfo, and take guests to sea on a sleek yacht, always with that warm Galluran hospitality.

THE RESORT

Villa del Golfo Lifestyle Resort is an Italian retreat, nurtured by one family. Immersed in nature, the air is fragrant with myrtle and Mediterranean evergreens. Shaded porticos and sun-drenched terraces offer panoramic views across Cannigione Bay and the Maddalena Archipelago. Architecture follows the soft contours of the hillside, interiors are rustic chic, showcasing local craftsmanship.

THE SETTING

Whitewashed walls, brick arches and terracotta roofs are set amidst peaceful courtyards and gardens, while tiled interiors are light and welcoming. Aperitivi and Mediterranean dining are served with spectacular views across the Sardinian sea of Gallura. An infinity seawater pool in the gardens, merges with the blue horizon. For cooler evenings there is a library with an open fire.

THE RESTAURANTS

Cuisine reflects the owners' Sardinian heritage and Italian lifestyle.

Three restaurants are each dedicated to a different repertoire of local specialties.

Chefs are deeply knowledgeable about the culinary traditions of Gallura and Sardinia, and offer the most famous typical dishes of the region, occasionally adding their own modern twist with adept creativity.

THE MIRALUNA RESTAURANT

A panoramic veranda overlooks the bay of Cannigione, romantic in the evenings and an especially refreshing view in the mornings. Menus are inspired by the Mediterranean with the best fresh local ingredients, often gathered on the day, and accompanied by the island's excellent wines. Sunset aperitifs are served in Miraluna's lounge bar, with live music.

LA COLTI FARM

La Colti is an ancient Gallurese farmhouse a few minutes away on the family estate. It is an atmospheric stone building with two large dining rooms, open fire and a courtyard garden. An authentic rustic setting where guests can be immersed in Sardinian gastronomic traditions, and taste local dishes prepared with fresh organic ingredients from the estate.

THE CUTTER LOUNGE & RESTAURANT

This veranda on Cannigione beach, a few minutes from the hotel, is an informal chic setting, by the calming lap of the sea. Open all day for delicious salads, light specialties from land and sea, aromatic pizzas and homemade patisseries. At sunset enjoy an aperitif, spending a pleasant evening in the cool sea breeze.

ULIA

The Cascioni estate's on-site restaurant. The setting is cosy and the tables few and well spaced, leaving plenty of room for the peaceful atmosphere of our Eco Retreat. The menu combines simplicity and refinement in traditional Sardinian fashion. Many of the ingredients come from the estate's own vegetable gardens. The olive oil we put on your table is produced right here on the estate. With its subtle flavour and delicate fragrance, it's the perfect dressing for carasau flatbread and turns a simple green salad into an unforgettable experience.

International jet setters have been arriving here each summer for over fifty years, on princely yachts or private jets, to experience architecture that has made history, to attend parties and important events, and to make their own mark in its history. Above all, visitors come to enjoy the incomparable beauty of the nature and the sea. Liscia Ruja, Grande Pevero, Capriccioli, La Celvia, Il Principe: these are just some of the most famous beaches around the world, renowned for the unique clarity of their emerald waters, the dazzling whiteness of their sand and the marvellous constellation of islets that crown the area.

One of the most astounding natural reserves in the Mediterranean renowned for its crystal clear waters, emerald coves, uniquely shaped rocks, and rich marine life. The area also has a fascinating history, with the lingering spirits of pirates who colonised the islands over the centuries, bandits who found refuge in them, and the hero Garibaldi who chose to retire in its serenity, away from the world.

IN THE HEART OF GALLURA

Beyond the famously clear emerald seas, Gallura offers a great many interesting landscapes, from naturalistic, historical and archaeological points of view. Rugged mountains alternate with soft valleys, Mediterranean countryside is crossed with neat rows of vines and olive trees. Nuraghi stand atop the hills, next to ancient megalithic ruins; small villages with stone houses are dotted across the landscape, home to communities who take great pride in their culture and ancient traditions.
