

ADLER Lodge RITTEN:

A new luxury mountain retreat in the heart of the sunny Ritten high plateau

Opened on 27 June 2019

High on a plateau, between the mountain villages of Oberbozen and Klobenstein in the South Tyrolean municipality of Ritten, is the new ADLER Lodge RITTEN.

Following the simple ADLER principles of relaxed luxury in tune with a sense of place, the new retreat combines 20 traditional mountain wooden chalets scattered around the property and 20 luxury suites in the main building, 40 rooms in total.

ADLER Lodge RITTEN is the perfect base for exploration by foot, bike or ski. Winter allows access to the world-famous resort of Rittner Horn, opening up the mountains for skiing, hiking, snow-shoeing and ice-skating.

The Ritten plateau is linked to the cultural city of Bolzano by a 12-minute cable car ride.

There are 11 Junior chalets and nine two-storey chalets, four with family accommodation (with two bedrooms and en-suite bathrooms). The two-storey chalets are entered on the upper floors which feature the living area with a wood-burning fireplace, cosy corner with sofas, wood panels and a balcony. Bedrooms are on the ground floor, all with large wooden terraces with uninterrupted views of the surrounding peaks.

Chalets and suites are made entirely of natural, sustainably sourced spruce and offer large living areas, balconies or terraces, spacious bathrooms and their own bio saunas.

Hannes Pignater orchestrates the kitchen. Brought in from the ADLER Lodge ALPE, he is famous for his innovative yet simple use of local ingredients and products to create traditional South Tyrolean dishes and modern Mediterranean fare. Guests can sample his creations in a restaurant below a glass ceiling or in the open sky (the glass ceiling can be opened) allowing uninterrupted views of the stars.

The spa at ADLER Lodge RITTEN has four treatment cabins (with ADLER Spa Active Cosmetics), a heated indoor/outdoor pool, relaxation rooms, a steam sauna and two outdoor saunas in the forest, a Finnish sauna and a herb sauna. The hotel offers a gentle outdoor programme including yoga, forest bathing and meditation as well as guided hiking and biking tours.

ADLER Lodge RITTEN is a hideaway, somewhere where guests can retreat to, recharge their batteries and feel both rebalanced and rejuvenated while being looked after by a young dynamic team in the warmth of the ADLER family spirit.
