

COMO Hotels and Resorts expands its portfolio with the opening of COMO Alpina Dolomites

November 2023 - COMO Hotels and Resorts is delighted to announce the opening of its latest luxury destination, COMO Alpina Dolomites which will open its doors on 7th December 2023. This luxury year-round resort, located in Northern Italy's South Tyrol, promises an unparalleled alpine experience.

Situated amongst the majestic Dolomites, a UNESCO Natural World Heritage site, the resort is located in Val Gardena on the Alpe di Siusi, one of Europe's largest high-altitude plateaus. Nestled within a landscape characterized by towering peaks, sprawling valleys and alpine meadows, the resort features 60 thoughtfully designed rooms. With its prime location, guests can enjoy sweeping views of some of the most famous peaks in the Dolomite Mountain range

On the adventure front, pristine pistes beckon, with Val Gardena being a jewel in the Dolomiti Superski circuit. Whether one is an off-piste expert or a novice finding their footing on the slopes, the ski-in/ski-out resort offers the guidance of expert instructors to ensure an exhilarating skiing experience. For those looking to venture beyond the slopes, the area also provides a plethora of year-round activities. From hiking and mountain biking in warmer seasons to snowboarding and cross-country skiing in winter, there's something for every outdoor enthusiast.

The resort champions the freshest local and regional products, curating a menu that fuels alpine adventures. Guests can choose from a variety of dining options, including the bright and casual Alpina Chalet in the fresh mountain air, the intimate Mountain Restaurant which is dedicated to the art of healthful dining by COMO Shambhala Cuisine or the welcoming Lobby Lounge for relaxed bites and drinks.

Holistic wellness is one of the core pillars of the COMO's properties and COMO Alpina Dolomites is no exception. COMO Shambhala Retreat offers an expansive wellness programme that includes a 22m indoor pool, a 7m panoramic outdoor pool, sauna, relaxation zones, a fitness centre, and a beauty sanctuary. At COMO Shambhala, the focus remains on revitalisation and rejuvenation, ensuring that guests return from their stay feeling both refreshed and renewed.

When it comes to design, natural materials have been thoughtfully chosen for the building and the resort seamlessly integrates with its surroundings. With the facade built using original quartzite natural stone and a roof embraced by a wooden structure, the design emulates the natural movements of the terrain and mountains.

COMO Alpina Dolomites stands as a testament to genuine alpine hospitality, with each aspect of the resort—from dining to wellness—reflecting the region's cherished traditions, enhanced by the style COMO Hotels & Resorts is known for. Marking the brand's fifth European venture, and its eighteenth establishment globally, COMO Hotels and Resorts is renowned for offering personalised, luxury travel experiences. Every property under its umbrella is deeply rooted in its environment, whether it be the urban pulse of London, Bhutan's beautiful landscapes, or the serene beaches of Turks and Caicos and the Maldives. From its inception in London in 1991, the group's thoughtful expansion ensures that each addition aligns with COMO's core values of authenticity and refined sophistication. This recent inclusion further cements COMO's reputation in the luxury hospitality sector.
