In the majesty of the past

Castel Monastero is set in the Tuscan countryside, surrounded by stunning landscapes of Chianti vineyards, chestnut forests, and long rows of cypress trees just 23km from Siena and within easy reach of charming Tuscan villages. The origins of Castel Monastero are found in the history of Medieval Tuscany. Mentioned for the first time, under the name of Sarna, in 1044, from 1050 onwards, the castle was referred to mainly as Monastero, in connection also to the nearby Berardenga Abbey. Besieged without success by the Florentines in 1208 the castle was conquered in 1270 by Guido di Montfort who used it as an outpost against the city of Siena. Bought later by the noble Sienese Chigi Saracini family, the hamlet turned into a country home.

Today, Castel Monastero is a sophisticated resort and a proud member of The Leading Hotels of the World, offering the best of heartfelt Italian hospitality and lifestyle while time seems to follow a more gentle rhythm.

With 68 exclusive rooms and suites located in the medieval monastery and its hamlet, Castel Monastero embodies the soul of Tuscany while offering an intimate getaway.
